

Volunteering

Habitat for Humanity is able to achieve its mission of decent affordable homes for low income families because of the many hours donated by dedicated volunteers. New Hampshire Capital Region Habitat for Humanity is an all volunteer organization from its officers and Board of Directors to the committee members and weekend builders. Without these dedicated volunteers, our homes would be as expensive as market values and unattainable by low income families. We depend on volunteers not only to build the houses, but also for all tasks that the organization needs to do such as finding property, selecting families, fundraising, publicity, and many more. There are no houses to build when the organizational needs are not met.

What is required of a dedicated volunteer? We need people who are willing to make commitments and keep them. Since we are mostly an all volunteer organization, if a volunteer does not do something that has been promised, it does not get done. Please make reasonable commitments and keep them. When life situations prevent you from keeping a commitment, it is very important to notify the person to whom you made the commitment, as early as possible. Teamwork is also key to accomplishing our goals and to having fun. Don't forget to have fun in what you're doing.

What can you do? You can do things you are very familiar with or you can try new things – whatever will be the most fun and rewarding for you. Most people think of building houses when they hear Habitat for Humanity. Many volunteers do work on houses on weekends. However, we have many other opportunities for you to make a difference if construction is not your first choice. We need people to select and work with the new homeowners. We need people to work with our volunteers and schedule tasks for them. Would you like to be a liaison to churches or find property for us to build the next house? Do you have technical skills you want to use to support a database or a website? How about writing newsletter articles? If you have a particular interest or skill, talk to us.

Can community service credit be earned by volunteering? Yes. Community Service requirements fall mainly into two categories: a.) court mandated and b.) youth requirements for school, church, or some other organization. In either case, appropriate forms must be submitted in advance so that we can track your volunteer hours properly since we must certify the time. Complete the forms and get them to us before volunteering. Upon completion of your volunteer time, we shall submit certification reports to the indicated agency or organization.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer, please complete the following volunteer information form and mail it back to us. Also, every volunteer must complete and sign a Release and Waiver of Liability form each year before starting to volunteer. There are two versions below that you can complete and mail or bring with you the first day. One version is for adults and the other is for those under 18 years of age. Youth under 16 years of age are not allowed on an active construction site, but may volunteer in some other ways.
